

This year's theme is, 'That all may be free', and has been chosen by the churches in the Caribbean.

The materials are based on Exodus 15, a song of triumph over oppression. For each daily reflection the 'Go and Do' action points are provided by Christian Aid.

The 'School Holidays (Meals and Activities)' Bill has its 2nd reading in the House of Commons on 19 January.

The proposed legislation will be to ensure that children have access to good food on the 170 days a year when they are not in school. A report (Hungry Holidays) by the All Party Parliamentary Group on Hunger in 2017 found that as many as three million children faced the risk of food insecurity last summer and will do so this year. The Trussell Trust (Foodbank) also reported that extra food was given to too many families during the school holidays last year. We are encouraged to ask our MPs to vote in favour of this bill to protect the health of so many children during the school holidays.
